Arrivals and Departures of Residents and Visitors

IN THE SOCIAL WORLD

The Column Everybody Reads—Chat About Your Friends and Neighbors—Here and There.

S. G. Bollman of Everett Rt. 1 was a Bedford visitor last Friday. Edward Fisher of Mann's Choice was a Gazette caller last Saturday. Miss Dorothy Fisher of Everett was a recent Bedford visitor.

Ex-Sheriff Andrew Dodson, of Hopewell visited Bedford on Monday. The banks will be closed on Tuesday Oct. 12, Columbus Day.

Mrs. Marie Gries spent Wednesday at her old home at Fishertown. Mrs. Charles Cook of Philadelphia is visiting Mrs. H. A. Cook this week. Mrs. Clifford Weyant of Bedford visited her friend Miss Verna Trout of Cessna on Saturday and Sunday. Harry Rorbaugh and S. A. Blair of Six Mile Run were Bedford visitors on Wednesday.

Miss Dorothy Mook has accepted a position with the Jones Supplies—Wills Milk Company, of this place. There is no doubt that Lincoln's attentions do not compare with Harding's.

John Struckman and Mrs. Adam Benita of Mann's Choice were Bedford visitors on Wednesday.

Mr. Ralph Bowser who is employed in Johnstown visited at his home on South Richmond Street recently. Mr. Thomas Mervine of Mt. Union has been spending some time at his home on West Pitt St.

Mr. Harding invites you to go with him. He doesn't know where he is going but he's on his way. Cox has driven Harding off the front porch. Boys you must get the money.

Mrs. B. F. Pennell of Everett, is visiting her daughter Mrs. Ross Brown and friends in Bedford this week.

Miss Frons Walfman who is employed at this place spent a few days this week at her home in Friend's Cove.

Mrs. Sarah A. Feicht who has spent some time with her son at Westernport, Md. returned to Bedford last week.

A marriage license was issued in Cumberland this week to Charles A. Dettwiler and Ada A. Fisher both of Baker's Summit, Pa.

Mr. Charles Fletcher of Pittsburgh returned to that place on Thursday after visiting at his home on Spring St. a few days.

Messrs. William Pale, Ed. Barnett, John Hodel, Wm. E. Strub and Samuel H. Koonz were among the Bedford people who attended the Big Fry at York this week.

I am without a single programme constructive in character regarding an association of Nations Senator Harding, Republican Candidate for President.

Lloyd W. Foor of Six Mile Run and Mary H. Nordis of Everett obtained a marriage license in Cumberland this week.

Miss Agnes Reese of Cumberland who has been visiting Dr. and Mrs. A. C. Wolf of this place has returned home.

Mrs. C. V. Barton, son Harold and Mrs. James McIntyre of Six Mile Run were visiting Mrs. Dr. A. C. Wolfe on Wednesday.

Miss Bernadette Leonard, formerly Gazette's clerk has taken up a course at Zeths Business School of Altoona. We wish her the greatest progress.

Dr. Norman A. Timmins left Thursday for Philadelphia to take up a Post Graduate Course in Surgery of the nose and throat. He expects to be back about November 10th.

Miss Elizabeth Bain, of Clearfield, Pa., is visiting her grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Edward Dill and her aunt Miss Lizzie B. Bain for a few days.

Lyndus, oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Long, of South Juliana Street, underwent an operation for appendicitis in the Western Maryland Hospital yesterday. He is getting along nicely.

Mrs. H. A. Cook was taken by surprise on Tuesday evening when her Sunday School class gave her a surprise visit previous to her departure for Washington, D. C. for the winter.

Squire Josiah Hissong of Point and George Elcholtz of Bedford, Jury Commissioners of Bedford County spent Tuesday drawing the Jurors for November court.

Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Crissman; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Thompson, sons Frank Jr. and Richard and Mrs. Emily Thompson all of this place spent Sunday visiting Everett friends.

Fred A. Metzger has returned from an overland trip to Pittsburgh, where he was joined by Mrs. Metzger who had been visiting friends and relatives for the last few weeks in the state of Indiana.

Mrs. Sol Metzger and son "Tommy" who have been spending the summer months at this place, returned to their home in Columbia, South Carolina on Friday of last week. They were accompanied by Miss Margaret Metzger who will spend some time at that place.

No instructions to team captains or workers should be printed, as care must be used that nothing is left on tables at luncheons or dinners that might fall into the hands of anyone that might give publicity to such material.—Republican Fat-Frying Committee.

WILLIAM R. CARN.

William R. Carn died at his home near Osterburg September 29th, aged 63 years, 10 months and 8 days. He was born at Imler November 22, 1856, and was married Feb. 5, 1880 to Miss Lucinda Burket of Weyant. He is survived by his widow and five children: Mrs. Lonie Harr of Salix, Pa., Mrs. Hattie Pensyl of Point, Pa., Harry of Toledo, Ohio, and Geo. and Park of Osterburg. He is also survived by thirteen grandchildren, one great-grandchild, one brother Jacob Carn of Claysburg and one sister Mrs. Minnie Corle of Hollidaysburg. The funeral was held from his late home Saturday morning at 10 o'clock. Services were conducted in Trinity Reformed Church at Osterburg by his pastor, Rev. John A. Borger. Interment was made in the adjoining cemetery.

MRS. AMANDA COUGHENOUR

We are sorry to note the death of our friend and neighbor, Mrs. Amanda Coughenour, who departed this life at the hospital, Cumberland, Md., on the evening of September 26th. She was a friend of all and a kind and accommodating neighbor. She united with the Reformed church early in life after not being able to keep in touch with the church of her choice united with the Lutheran Church by letter in which she was faithful until the time of her death. She belonged to the Home Department connected with the Sunday School in the Lutheran church at Madley. The sermon was preached by Rev. Sionaker, assisted by Rev. Chas. Raley and Rev. J. H. Wise of Camp Run and also a short talk by Mr. John Stouffer of Fossilville. Mrs. Coughenour was 64 years of age. She leaves to mourn her loss a husband Mr. George Coughenour and five brothers, Albert, John and Silas Clites of Buffalo Mills R. D., Eli Clites of Boynton and Jacob of Hyndman.

There were many flowers given as a token of respect to the departed one.

Besides a host of nieces and nephews who attended the funeral were Messrs. Chester and Harvey Burns of Pittsburgh; Mrs. Agnes Critchfield and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Coughenour and family of Boswell, Pa.

ACCIDENT ABOVE SCHELLSBURG

Wednesday about 5 o'clock at the big covered bridge above Schellsburg three autos came together, and smashed all of them with no one seriously hurt but "it might have been." It seemed that all three cars wanted to enter the bridge at the same time, neither being disposed to determine what the other was going to do, a pure case of "go ahead and run the risk." The occupants of all three cars were from Pittsburgh or other places and no local cars were mixed in the smash up. Ed Landis brought the Ford in his truck to Bedford and trailed the other. What became of the other car we have not learned but maybe it was smashed so fine it went to dust.

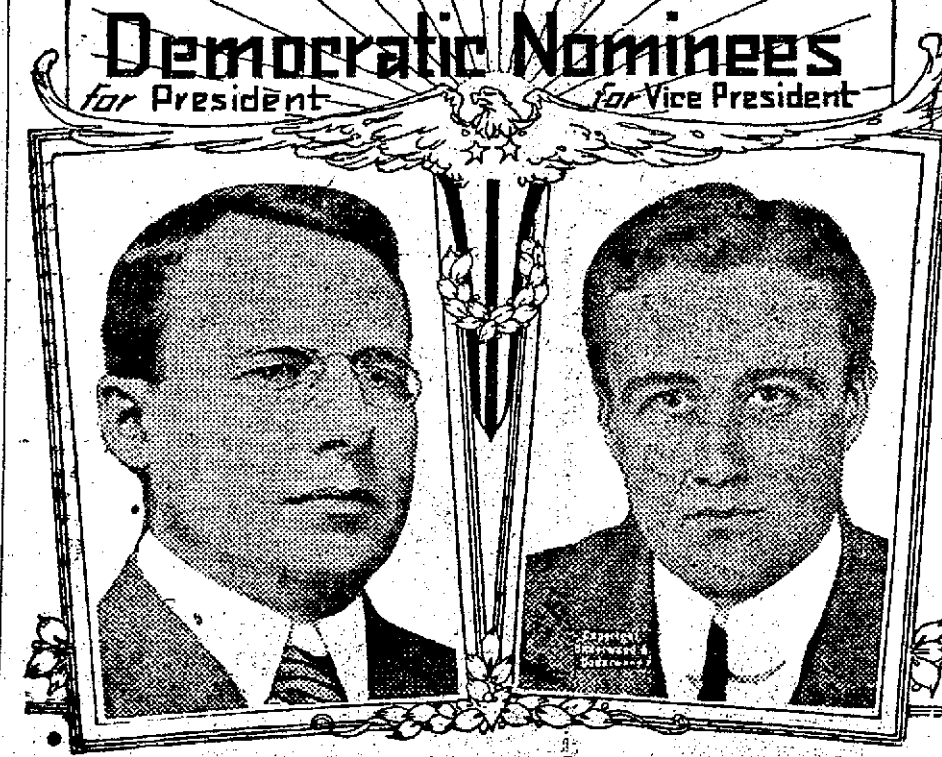

CUMBERLAND LICENSES.

Marriage licenses were issued in Cumberland this week to the following persons:

Christopher C. Barbour of Six Mile Run and Stella M. Sweeney of Garrett; Clarence H. Kinsey of Bedford and Margaret L. Welsh of Everett; Elmer Edgar, Swager of Ellerslie, Md. and Elizabeth M. Studebaker of Akron, Ohio; Charles B. Curfuran of Robertsdale and Mazie B. Foor of Six Mile Run; Chaney F. Linzenfelter and Jennie M. Black of Sproul; Daniel P. Gates Jr. and Ruby A. Wisel of Hopewell; Herman Shroyer and Irene R. Clites of Ellerslie, Md.

Lient. Sherman R. Nave is elected as Bedford County's representative in the Legislature. He will fill the position just as fearlessly as he faced the Hun's deadly shot and shell. He is capable in every respect and every patriotic man and woman in the county should take pride in casting their votes for such a deserving man as Mr. Nave. He offered his life as a sacrifice for us, so we should in return make a sacrifice for him, by turning out to the election and giving him our whole support regardless of political affiliations.

HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS GIVE SOCIAL TO-NIGHT

Bedford High School Plays Bellwood Juniors in Football on Saturday afternoon.

The High School Athletic Association is giving an informal party in the School Auditorium this evening. A committee on entertainment has provided for a number of games and novel events that will be a surprise to many. The invitations are not restricted to the present students; all boys and girls who have at any time attended the High School are cordially invited to come. The purpose is to keep all former students in touch with the spirit of the school.

On Saturday afternoon at 2:00 the High School football team will play the Bellwood Juniors on the local gridiron, Northside Park. This is the first regularly scheduled game of the season. The local team is in splendid condition and in high spirits. All foot-ball fans will have a treat on Saturday. Students will attend the game in a body.

Dr. Elliot's Views on League vs. Democratic Party.

Says It Turns Its Back on Own Principles—Upholds League of Nations.

The Democratic Party, writes Dr. Charles W. Elliot, President Emeritus of Harvard, in the October issue of the Atlantic Monthly, "is far the more trustworthy party for the promotion of progressive ideas in government, politics and improvement of all social, commercial and industrial organizations."

Discussing "The Voter's Choice in the Coming Election," Dr. Elliot characterizes the Senators who defeated ratification as "extraordinarily narrow, minded and selfish." Saying the Republican Party has "turned its back on its own principles of 1860 and 1898." Dr. Elliot remarks:

"This deplorable change of front is a deep mortification and distress to all patriotic Americans. Republican or Democratic, and particularly those who remember the ideals for which the American Party was founded to contend for, and which led it to glorious victories."

From the Republican platform, Dr. Elliot writes, one would infer President Wilson "has never said or done anything that was right." Instead of demanding its rightful share "in the burden and responsibility of the war," the Republican Party "proposes that this country take no share in the burden of securing the fruits of the war, and advises the American people to look first to the maintenance of their own independence and the security of their own property and to renounce all sense of obligation to the other free nations which were associated with America in the conduct of the war with Germany."

To All Lovers of Peace

The Committee of Pro-League Independents is just being started, and has almost no available funds. Our printing and distribution of Professor Irving Fisher's article "Some reasons for voting for Cox and Roosevelt" a graphic chart of the League of Nations Covenant and other campaign literature on the League. Requests for copies of these are coming in by the tens of thousands. We need at least 100,000 at once.

If we can do the educational work necessary the victory is ours: for the Independents usually decide the election and decide it on the merits of the question, and not on a "hymn of hate." But the truth must be presented to them in time.

It is race against time. Is it worth one half of one per cent of a single year's income to assure America's participation in the League of Nations, and to safeguard yourself against the high taxes which the other alternative will involve as soon as competition with racing in armaments is resumed? Will you contribute that amount? Checks should be made payable to: "The Pro-League Independents" and sent to 17 E. 41st St., New York City.

Very sincerely yours, Pro-League Independents.

COALDALE NATIONAL BANK CLOSED UP

Last Monday afternoon the Federal Government authorities closed up the National Bank of Six Mile Run because of a defaulting due according to rumor to speculation in Motor Stocks. It appears, according to rumor, that the cashier, R. W. Cunningham, was dealing in Motor Stocks when the market took a tumble which resulted in the bank cashier having to put up more margins which drew on the bank's funds resulting in the closing up. Mr. Risser, of the Bedford County Trust Company who is also Vice President of Coal Dale bank went to Coal Dale on Tuesday morning accompanied by his attorney E. M. Pennell. A special bank examiner from Washington, D. C. is there going over the securities etc. and the true condition of the defaulting will not be known until examination is completed and evidence furnished before the court. The bank's officers made information against the cashier and have him underground.

BIG INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL HALL BURNS IN 10 MINUTES

Tuesday the big Sunday School hall at Tokio, Japan burned to the ground in 10 minutes. This hall was constructed for the accommodation of the World's Sunday School Convention to which our fellow townsman Mr. Henry C. Heckerman was a delegate. The fire was caused by defective electric wiring and was started when the lights were turned on to light up the large dome bearing the inscription, "I am the Light of the World." A large number of delegates were on the inside but no casualties were reported.

THE MOTHERS' PENSION FUND

One year ago the Emergency Aid of Bedford assumed responsibility for the sum of two hundred dollars a year for two years for the mother's pension fund, which is, as is probably well known, a fund that is used to help widowed mothers of a Bedford county keep their children with them at home instead of separating them and sending them to various homes for orphan children. In order to secure this amount of money subscriptions were secured from the people of Bedford and vicinity. The purpose of this article is to call the attention of some of the people who made pledges to the fact that though their year is up they have overlooked the matter of paying their pledges. It would be a great help if they would make payment at once to Miss Lizzie Bain. Then too, since this work is for two years and the pledges were taken for only one year it is hoped that all who made pledges last year will renew them for another year and that they will do so without the necessity of the committee calling on them. It will save so much work for all. Will all who are willing to have part in this good work for another year kindly make known the fact at the earliest convenience to some one of the following members of the committee appointed to solicit pledges?

Todd, Mrs. J. C. Smith, Miss Emily Statler, Miss Elizabeth Schell, Miss Rena Alsip.

Committee.

TWO NEGROS ATTACK MAN

On Thursday evening Sept. 30 while A. E. Miller, huckster of New Paris was returning from Johnstown he was overtaken while crossing the Allegheny mountains between Ash-tola and Ogletown by two negroes, who boarded his truck while at a fast speed, the one from the side and the other from the rear. Mr. Miller did not notice the one from the rear until the intruder grabbed him by the neck. The one who entered from the side commenced pommeling him in the face with his fists, until he was in a semi-conscious condition. The truck was stopped and the huckster was robbed of all his cash, checks, watch, keys, note book and even his sweater which one of the assailants appropriated to his own use.

After they had taken everything of value, the one negro suggested that they kill their victim and drag his body off into the woods nearby, but the other seemed satisfied with what they had accomplished and refused to take part in the murder.

Leaving the huckster bruised and bleeding by the roadside the negroes boarded the truck and drove eastward. The truck was abandoned a short distance east of Ogletown, and the occupants retraced their trail toward Windber. Miller recovering sufficiently to walk started for Windber without hat, coat or sweater. He was overtaken by an automobile, which carried him to Windber.

Information was made to Chief of Police S. W. McMullen who with other men started a search. The woods near where the truck was abandoned were thoroughly searched but not succeeding, the searching party returned to Windber. Later in the evening it was announced that two negroes were entering the eastern side of Windber. The one who was a short distance ahead of the other was captured by J. I. McMullen, son of Chief McMullen. The other negro who was on the opposite side of the street started to run and was captured by Chief McMullen. Both negroes were hustled off to the Windber jail where they were searched and all the stolen effects were found.

As soon as the news reached New Paris of Mr. Miller's robbery, a reward of $200.00 was offered by the people of New Paris and vicinity for the arrest of the assailants and they telephoned to Chief McMullen. McMullen replied, "I have the pleasure to inform New Paris that the men are now under arrest and that we just finished invoicing the stolen money and goods."

A number of well filled autos from New Paris and Alum Bank were soon in Windber. The excitement in the coal town was great and at one time was thought that the negroes would be dragged from the jail. Late in the night the culprits were taken to Johnstown and thrust into prison. They were brought to Windber on the following day and had a formal hearing before "Squire Patton who assigned them over to the county authorities of Somerset, where they were lodged in jail to await a trial at the next term of court.

Mr. Miller who was able to go out on his huckster route Monday morning wishes to express his thanks and good will by this means to all who were so much interested in his behalf, especially those who turned out on such an inclement day, and to those who responded in making up the purse for the arrest of the robbers.

The negroes who gave their names as Joseph White and Herbert Smith are said to be "floaters" who were brought to Johnstown from the East with a gang of industrial laborers. They had stayed for three days at a negro boarding house at Franklin Borough according to their own statements.

BLACKBURN—COLIN

On Saturday September 25, 1920 at 7 P. M. Miss Mayme Colin of Springfield Ill. niece of Mr. and Mrs. Leon L'Hote of Perryville, Missouri was united in marriage to Mr. Border Blackburn of Cessna by the Rev. Kittel of the Lutheran church at Steubenville, Ohio.

The wedding was a quiet affair. The bride was an accountant with the Central Union Telephone Co. at Springfield, Ill. for the past eight years, and is a very accomplished young lady. The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Blackburn formerly of Cessna, but now of Bedford, who is conducting a milling business at Cessna as partner with his brother. Mr. Blackburn saw service in the late war in France and is a very efficient young man in that community. The Gazette extends its hearty congratulations.

Department of State Police

Major Lynn G. Adams, Superintendent of the Department of State Police, today announced the discharge of corporal John R. Dixon, of Troop E, Lancaster. He was convicted in court martial proceedings on a charge of drunkenness at Chambersburg and also at Shippensburg September 22.

The dismissed trooper became unruly in a hotel, drew his pistol on a local policeman and forced him out of the place. State policeman took Dixon to the State Police Training School, at Newsville, where he was suspended, pending his discharge from the police force.

FIRE PREVENTION DAY

Harrisburg, Pa., Oct. 6.—Governor Sproul today issued a statement urging all citizens of Pennsylvania to observe Fire Prevention Day next Saturday, October 9. He said the day had been set aside to impress upon the people the tremendous loss of human life and destruction of property by fire in this state every year. He requested Pennsylvania to arrange for educational and instructive exercises, so that the people would realize the serious effects of the unwarranted fire waste in this Commonwealth.

Governor Sproul pointed to the figures compiled in the Bureau of Fire Protection showing that seventy-five per cent of the fires were preventable. He declared it was the duty of every resident to join in a nation-wide movement to reduce and eliminate eventually the enormous loss by fires.

To further the prevention movement, Governor Sproul urged all citizens to remove fire hazards from their property; to destroy trash, rubbish and other accumulations of combustible material, and to inspect and repair lightning and heating appliances that are fire menaces. He advocated that factories, and public buildings, school houses and institutions be inspected for fire risks, and that municipal fire departments give attention to the condition of hydrants, water pressure and fire-fighting appliances.

In his statement, Governor Sproul called attention to the present shortage of dwellings and business structures throughout the State, saying it would be deplorable to have a property loss now as great as last year, when $20,000,000 worth of property was burned.

The time has arrived when some prospects should be asked for subscriptions ranging from $5,000 upward.—Republican Fat-Frying Committee.

Warm—watertight—cleaned in a minute—that's the "U. S." Walrus. It's just one model in the big U. S. line of rubber footwear

A new kind of overshoe for farmers

The "U. S." Walrus: watertight as a rubber boot—as warm and easy to slip on as an arctic

THE combination you have always needed—something to keep your feet dry and warm and yet easy to slip on and off! Here it is—the new U. S. Walrus.

This new overshoe slips on and off easily over your leather shoes. Its warm, fleecy lining keeps your feet comfortable in the coldest weather. And its smooth rubber surface can be washed off as quickly and cleanly as a boot.

The comfort and convenience of this new overshoe are backed by real strength. Made by the oldest and largest rubber manufacturer in the world, the U. S. Walrus is built for the roughest wear. Its sole consists of five layers of the finest rubber. All other points where the strain comes are reinforced.

Ask your dealer to show you the U. S. Walrus. After you've worn them you'll realize why farmers everywhere are buying them.

Other types of "U. S." Footwear—built for rough service

U. S. Boots have the wear and comfort which the accumulated improvements of 74 years have given them.

U. S. Bootees lace on over the sock like a leather shoe. You can wear them all day long in the wettest weather. Your feet will stay dry and comfortable.

There is a U. S. model for every need—arctics, rubbers, "overs." Every one has been designed by experts—every one is backed by over half a century of experience. Always look for the U. S. Seal—it means solid wear and long service for your money.

Questions.

1. How many persons be protected against small pox?
2. What evidence of vaccination of children must teachers have?
3. Upon what authority may a child be excused from vaccination?

VACCINATION

Small pox, one time as common as measles, has almost disappeared.

Four hundred years ago it swept through Mexico taking a toll of 3,500,000 lives. Last year Pennsylvania, with a population of over 9,000,000, had only two deaths from this disease.

The knowledge that one attack of small pox afforded a life-time protection against a second invasion of the disease, early led to the practice of inoculation in the European countries. This consisted in the insertion under the skin of some part of the body of a small quantity of the secretion taken from a pustule of a mild case, in the hope that a similar mild attack would follow. The operation was usually performed with a sharp pointed knife, but as a number of persons died from the small pox thus artificially induced, the practice never attained widespread popularity.

Something more than 100 years ago, Edward Jenner, an English Physician, observed that milk maids as a class were particularly free from Small pox. It had long been known that cows were subject to a disease called "Cow pox," which, while milder in character, bore a striking resemblance to Small pox.

Pocks or pustules appeared upon the udders of affected cows, and the hands of milk maids, usually chapped from exposure, coming in contact with open pustules, were frequently infected.

Since persons who had had Cow pox not only did not contract Small pox from others, but experienced no effect from attempted inoculation with it, Dr. Jenner believed that artificial inoculation or vaccination with the virus of Cow pox would in all cases serve as a protection against Small pox. He demonstrated his theory to his own satisfaction, by first vaccinating his own son and then a number of others, all of whom failed to contract Small pox either by exposure to it or by inoculation of the virus under the skin, but when he published the results of his experiment a storm of opposition arose. Some of the old prints still in existence, showed persons who had grown horns like cows as a result of the introduction into their system of the virus from the cow; others suffered change in facial expression and took on the features of cows; still others were said to have lost their power of speech and were capable of expressing their emotions only by a series of moos. These attempts at ridicule and appeals to the superstition of the age were serious handicaps, but for all that there began to be less cases of Small pox and more applicants for vaccination.

So completely has the value of vaccination against Small pox been demonstrated, that today its practice is universal although the method has materially changed.

The virus is obtained from calves, which have been subjected to most careful examination to assure their freedom from disease.

It is prepared under strictest anti-septic precautions, and then as a double check, is tested upon other animals to make sure of its purity.

The same care should be employed in caring for a vaccination vesicle or (sore) as is exercised in treating a wound.

The germs of Tetanus (lockjaw) are found in the ground and especially abundant in the manure of horse stables. Open vaccination sores should be protected by soft clean bandages and children should not be allowed to play in the dirt or around stables until their Vaccination has healed.

One good "take" as it is commonly called, is often sufficient to guarantee protection against Small pox for life, but as a matter of precaution, it is well to have a revaccination attempted about every five to seven years.

The law of Pennsylvania requires all children to produce certificates of successful vaccination before they can enter school.

School teachers and school directors are held personally responsible and are liable to be fined from five to one hundred dollars for each case of non-compliance.

When a family physician claims the child is physically unfit for Vaccination, the County Medical Director or some person authorized by him, upon examination may issue a temporary certificate permitting attendance at school, "good for one year only," in municipalities, such temporary certificates are issued by the medical officer (or his deputy) of the borough or city Board of Health.

Hindu Youth Precocious.

A tourist traveling in India wrote home that he was astonished by the precocity of the Hindu children, says the Home Journal. Many of them are skilled workmen at an age when other children are learning the alphabet. One of the most expert carvers in wood he saw was a boy of seven, and many of the handsomest and most costly rugs and carpets are woven by children not yet in their teens.

PENNSYLVANIA STATE ITEMS

Carnegie.—A contract awarded the Samuel Gamble company, of this place, to build 34,837 feet of state highway on Route 115, Washington county, at $475,646, is the first to be let for a long time.

Chambersburg.—John Mills, aged seventy-two, slipped while at his work in the Chambersburg Woolen Mill and his right arm was caught in a rag shredder and ground to bits above the elbow before he could throw off the power.

Shenandoah.—Men and boys employed on the state road in this vicinity struck, tying up all work. The drivers were paid forty cents an hour for ten hours and the laborers fifty cents for nine hours. They demand $5 a day for eight hours.

Uniontown.—For his part in charging $25 for introductions to Uniontown girls, and in a conspiracy to defraud Edward Williams out of $250, after the latter's diamond ring had been stolen, following one of the "introductions," T. A. Lynn, formerly of Waltersburg, has been sentenced to serve two years in the Western Penitentiary, while the girl in the case, Margaret Davis, got six months in the county jail. She was charged with conspiracy, while Lynn was convicted of charges of conspiracy and blackmail.

Pottsville.—Thieves purged by state police, ran a stolen automobile to the brink of the cliff on the Schuylkill mountain, where they allowed it to hang, after stripping it of its tires and everything portable. The machine was so completely wrecked that it is almost worthless. It is a Lexington, but the owner's name is unknown.

Norristown.—District Attorney Renninger and his four assistants began mandamus proceedings against the county commissioners and the controller to collect their salaries, due since June. The court fixed October 11 for hearing. The district attorney and his aides declared that for a dozen years, under exactly similar conditions, the office force have received fixed salaries from the county treasury, and that it ill becomes the commissioners and controller to hold that the office is a fee office and must earn the money to pay the officials. For the first five months of the year payment was made by the county on the salary basis, the hold-up occurring after Judge Bechtel, of Schuylkill county, had taken the stand that the district attorneys in that county must earn their pay.

Uniontown.—Bundle day here resulted in the collection of 2200 pounds of clothing and $20 in cash.

Scranton.—Within a week $600 worth of liquor in small lots has been stolen in Lackawanna county.

Brownsville.—Found dead in bed by her husband, Mrs. Earl Storey was declared a victim of hemorrhage.

Scranton.—As a result of recent automobile accidents two motorists have been indicted for manslaughter.

Connellsville.—In an automobile collision eight members of the family of O. O. Osterwiso were hurt, but none seriously.

Connellsville.—Arrest and fine of $100 for insulting a woman revealed the whereabouts of Paul Roland to his wife who appeared and instituted desertion proceedings against him.

Littletown.—When the automobile in which Mr. and Mrs. Edward Flickinger, of Silver Run, were riding was struck by a Pennsylvania train and carried sixty feet the occupants were found in the rear seat, uninjured, except for scratches.

Harrisburg.—October 9 has been designated Fire Prevention Day in the public schools.

Bellefonte.—William Hurley was appointed county superintendent of roads for Centre county.

Hazleton.—Falling from an apple tree William Lloyd, engineering expert, broke a bone in his foot.

Harrisburg.—The first oil and gas map of the state in almost forty years is now being printed by the geological survey.

Corry.—Three section men were killed and five escaped when a Pennsylvania special train crashed into a hand car here.

Pittsburgh.—Andrew J. Bell has been appointed boiler inspector for Allegheny county, to succeed Charles H. Garlick.

Donora.—Attempting to board a moving train from which he had alighted Chester Russell, of Ruesville, W. Va., was thrown to the ground and badly injured.

Hazleton.—Six hundred dollars she wore in a bag around her neck was stolen from Mrs. John Massin by a burglar, who cut the string as she slept.

Milton.—More than $5000 was cleared by a street carnival held by the American Legion post.

Lewistown.—Charles A. P. Ulsh, a merchant, fractured his right arm while cranking a motor car.

Altoona.—Strict enforcement of the Volstead act and the state law against gambling is demanded by the ministerium.

Connellsville.—In a practice game Edgar Francis, one of the mainstays of the high school football team, fractured a collarbone.

Bear Run.—Stepping off one track to escape a passenger train near here, George Skinner, aged sixty, stepped on the path of a fast freight train and was killed.

Weatherly.—The municipal electric light plant will increase rates to consumers.

Harrisburg.—The state highway department has promised a delegation of Montgomery county citizens to make improvements to the road between Phoenixville and Collegeville.

Altoona.—Hunters training dogs found the body of Francis C. Stauter, forty-six years old, at the foot of a fifty-foot cliff in a stone quarry here, he having fallen and broken his neck.

Hazleton.—No high school pupil will be permitted to appear on a literary society program until trained by the public speaking teachers.

Uniontown.—At a public sale in the W. W. Thompson bankruptcy here, $175,000 was realized for 215 acres of land bearing a nine-foot vein of coal.

Altoona.—Not a single death from cholera infantum occurred in Altoona during July and August, according to the records of the register of vital statistics. This is a most unusual record, as in past years it was not uncommon for infants to die of this disease at the rate of five or six a day in summer. The reduced death rate is attributed to chlorination of the water, pasteurization of the milk supply, improved sanitary conditions, education of young mothers and reduction of the fly nuisance.

Chester.—Edward Robinson and Gilbert Buck, colored policemen, were stripped of their uniforms and badges and held in $2000 bail each, charged with extortion, conspiracy and soliciting a bribe. The policemen were arrested at the direction of Chief of Police Davenport. The charges are that they had arrested John Johns and John Frazier for disorderly conduct, took them before Tony Grant, a storekeeper, who posed as a magistrate and fined them $5 each, which they paid and were released. The defendants in the case complained to Davenport and the arrests followed. Magistrate Elliott also placed Grant under $2000 bail for his appearance at a further investigation. The alleged bribery was exposed when Johns demanded a receipt for his $5, but it was refused and the chief was appealed to.

Hazleton.—Burglars dropped a nice collection of silverware and money gathered on the first floor of the home of Elias Wilson when they stumbled over a baby carriage in the dark and made so great a noise that the family was aroused and telephoned for the police.

Dunbar.—Tripping over a wire as he ran to catch a street car, Layton Forsythe, aged 59, one of Connellsville's best known men, sustained an injury which, although considered slight, resulted in his death within a few hours. He walked home and a physician was summoned. The family was assured that there was no immediate danger, but death followed soon after. The man struck his head and chest as he fell.

Connellsville.—Alleged to have broken into the store of Burdette & Saylor, at Dawson, three times in as many months and each time to have robbed the cash register, Hampton Largent, aged 18, has been committed to the Fayette county jail for court.

Allentown.—With an enrollment of nearly 800 students, the largest in the 55 years of the institution, Muhlenberg College opened its fall term with an address by Rev. Dr. H. W. A. Hanson, of Harrisburg.

Pittsburgh.—The cost of one necessary, cemetery lots, has not kept pace with the rising prices in Pittsburgh. At Allegheny Cemetery, where 63,000 persons are buried, the increase in cost of lots has been not more than 25 per cent in the last ten years, although the maintenance cost has trebled. Laborers who worked for $1.50 a day a decade ago are now getting a minimum of $5. At Uniondale Cemetery there has been no material increase in recent years and no advance in prices is anticipated, it is asserted. With the exception of burial places the cost of death has increased to a marked extent, the prices of caskets and underakers' services having soared.

Uniontown.—To buy overcoats for the fourteen policemen a vaudeville show will be given.

Lewistown.—Fourteen raccoons have been taken so far this season by L. P. Stonner, of this place.

Lewistown.—In a single nest on Shade Mountain, near here, Joseph Varner killed thirteen rattlesnakes.

Connellsville.—Falling on ice while loading a refrigerator car James Frederick was seriously hurt.

Marletta.—Water taken fifteen years ago from the River Jordan was used to baptize a child of Mr. and Mrs. Miles Lloyd.

Uniontown.—Cleaning a gun he didn't know was loaded the right arm of A. O. Behley, near here, was blown off by a charge of buckshot.

Mifflintown.—Scheyer Grove, a former favorite resort for negro "bush meetings," is being denuded of timber to feed a recently established saw mill.

Scranton.—The first American Legion post exclusively of women has been organized here.

Uniontown.—Mrs. John Mavar, weighing 115 pounds, was convicted of beating Mrs. George Dazer, weighing over 200, so badly that her leg was broken.

Bloomsburg.—Kicked and trampled by a horse she was trying to hitch, Mrs. Harvey Townsend, of this place, suffered a broken leg and severe cuts and bruises.

Somerset.—While eating supper, Mrs. Ellen Shafer, seventy-six years old, fell dead from heart disease.

Beatty.—A freight wreck here in which a brakeman was killed and twenty cars piled up, delayed traffic on the Pittsburgh division of the Pennsylvania ten hours.

Licking Creek Valley.—An epidemic of lockjaw prevails among mules here.

MUST PLAN TO CUT EXPENSES

CONGRESS WILL BE OBLIGED TO OPEN THE WAY TO REDUCE FEDERAL TAXES.

BOTH PARTIES ARE PLEDGED

Some Interesting Figures on Present Financial Condition of the Nation—Issuance of Treasury Certificates Must Stop Soon.

By JAMES P. HORNADAY.

Washington.—How to cut down the expenses of the federal government and thus open the way for a reduction in federal taxes will be one of the important questions congress will be obliged to take up when it comes back in December. Both the big political parties are pledged to reduce expenses of government, and both have promised to reduce taxes. Promises are, of course, cheap, but in this case public sentiment is so overwhelmingly in favor of cutting down expenses and also reducing taxes that some effort to keep the promises that have been made will have to be put forth.

Treasury certificates of indebtedness to the amount of about $640,000,000 matured on September 15, and about $160,000,000 matured on October 15, 1920. The greater part of these $800,000,000 maturing certificates will, the secretary says, be covered by the installment of income and profits taxes payable on September 15. In order to provide for the balance of the certificates requiring to be refunded and to meet the current requirements of the government up to October 15, the treasury has decided, on the basis of the best estimates available at this time, to offer treasury certificates of indebtedness in the amount of about $400,000,000 in two series, both dated September 15, one series designated T M 3-1921, bearing 5% per cent interest, maturing March 15, 1921, and the other series designated T S-1921, bearing 6 per cent interest, and maturing September 15, 1921.

First Quarter May Show Surplus.

On the basis of daily treasury statements, during the first two months of the current fiscal year beginning July 1, 1920, the ordinary receipts of the government amounted to $628,767,191.13, while the ordinary disbursements during the same period amounted to $754,072,901.78, leaving a net current deficit (excess of ordinary disbursements over ordinary receipts) of $125,305,710.65. This net current deficit for the first two months of the fiscal year is due chiefly to actual cash payments in amount of some $130,000,000, made necessary by the provisions of the transportation act in connection with the return of the railroads to private control. According to the latest estimates, payments on account of the railroads will probably continue on a large scale during the balance of the present calendar year, and will be relatively heavy during the month of September.

Notwithstanding the net current deficit during the first two months and these extraordinary payments on account of the railroads, it is expected that the first quarter of the fiscal year, ending September 30, 1920, will show a surplus.

The gross debt of the government on August 31, 1920, on the basis of daily treasury statements, amounted to $24,324,672,123.79, as against $24,299,321,467.07 at the close of the fiscal year ended June 30, 1920, an increase of only $25,350,656.72. The floating debt (loan and tax certificates unmatured) on August 31, 1920, amounted to $2,571,201,000 as against $2,485,522,500 on June 30, 1920. As a result of the operations incident to the handling of the maturities of treasury certificates on September 15 and October 15, and the payment of the income and profits tax installment on September 15, it is expected that the increases in both gross debt and floating debt which have occurred since June 30 as the result chiefly of the heavy railroad payments will be more than overcome and that both gross debt and floating debt will be materially reduced by September 30 below the amounts outstanding on June 30, 1920.

Debt to Be Further Reduced.

Further issues of treasury certificates during the months of October and November may subsequently result in temporary increases in both gross debt and floating debt, but the treasury confidently expects that by the completion of the second quarter of the fiscal year, on December 31, 1920, any such temporary increases will have been overcome, and that the gross debt and floating debt on December 31 will have been further reduced below the amounts outstanding on September 30.

The treasury has no difficulty in selling certificates. They go like hot cakes because they bear a high rate of interest and are exempt from state and local taxation, except inheritance taxes, and from normal federal income tax and the corporation income tax, and are admissible assets for the purpose of calculating profit taxes. But it is obvious that the treasury department must stop some time, and the sooner the better, stop offering these certificates for sale.

SHORT TALKS ON THE LUMBER SITUATION

I have before me as I write an interesting card of lumber prices issued by W. H. Hyde and Company manufacturers of pine and hemlock timber, of Ridgway, Elk County, Pa.
This card is dated May 6, 1885 and was sent me from the files of one of the oldest wholesale lumber firms of Philadelphia. The differences between lumber costs thirty-five years ago, when Pennsylvania was the very centre of pine and hemlock production, and now, when we must go to the far western states, or the southern states, for our lumber of this sort, and pay transportation charges running into big money, are decidedly interesting.

Messrs Hyde and Company quote
their Philadelphia customer a price of $7.00 a thousand feet for sixes from two by four to two twelve, and from twelve to sixteen feet long. Today the price paid at the mill for the same sizes and kinds of lumber is $33.00 a thousand feet. Special sizes, running as high as fifty feet in length could have been bought from Hyde and Company in 1885 for $10.00 a thousand feet. In 1920 the price is $65.00 a thousand feet, but it is not Pennsylvania lumber.

Upon the passage of a resolution,
introduced by Senator Capper of Kansas, Congress recently ordered a report which dealt with comparative lumber prices and this report has been made public by the United States Forest Service. In a table of average wholesale values for the eastern markets this report shows that in 1885 the price of a thousand feet of lumber had risen to $21.05 per thousand feet in 1920—four times as much as the first three months of the year—the price had advanced the amazing height of 131.55.

The wholesale price for a single piece of lumber in Philadelphia in February, 1915, was $60.00 a thousand feet. In February, 1920 this same kind of lumber sold at wholesale in Philadelphia for $200.00 a thousand feet.

It is but fair to consider that the very high prices for lumber now prevailing are due in part to the abnormal conditions in business generally.
Much lumber is sold "spot" or at auction, where bidding reveals, and where prices are determined by the desire of the purchaser to get the lumber rather than by a consideration of its real value.

But this does not explain it all.
The rise in lumber prices has been gradual and is due to the law of supply and demand. Forests have not been maintained as lumber producers and operations have been moved to where lumber is most plentiful. The less timber we have, the higher price we must pay. Even before the war prices had risen tremendously. In 1917 the average price of retail lumber had increased forty-eight per cent over the prices of 1905.

As lumbering shifts to distant points, one of the biggest items in the cost to the consumer is transportation. Here in Pennsylvania we pay an annual freight bill on lumber of more than $25,000,000. Already transportation absorbs as much as 23.9 per cent of the retail price. In 1913 the percentage was 21.6, while the percentage of freight increase over 1905 was 72.8 per cent.

In its summary of principal conclusions in response to the Capper resolution, the National Forest Service, commenting upon the national situation as to prices, says: "If large-scale production had still been possible in New England, New York, Pennsylvania, and the lake states,

there can be little doubt concerning the beneficial effects upon market stability and lumber prices."
Here in Pennsylvania we must remember that how high prices go and how steady prices are largely depends on how soon we can bring about the re-creation of Pennsylvania's timber production, and put our State once more among the great forest growing commonwealths.

LETTER FROM
THE WEST

Thomas M. Slick, formerly of Alum Bank, reaches old Mexico on his trip.

When we left Seattle for California we did not see for the first seventy-five miles much but saw mills and stocks of lumber for nearly a mile at a stretch, then a valley of fine wheat for about thirty miles.
We then struck a wonderful mountain which lasted for about two hundred miles, and I do not think there was ten miles of straight track all put together. We had fourteen coaches and we were in the thirteenth coach where for two days and one night we could see the two engines puffing away and running at a very slow rate of speed as the grade was so very steep. We struck California one morning at daylight where we saw wonderful rocks and very many tunnels, one a particularly long one,
and I remarked to a lady on the next seat "I do not believe she is coming out this time," which afforded her a good laugh.

A friend of ours met us at Sacramento and drove us in their car to a town by the name of Sutter Creek forty five miles distant, where the first gold was found in California.
We stayed there a week and I traveled with our friend, who was the only doctor in the place, over a large scope of that country seeing mines of different kinds and much beautiful scenery. He took us on a jaunt of fifty-eight miles to see what are called the "Big Trees." The road was wonderfully steep and winding.
We took in all these big trees by following a path of five miles where the underbrush had been cleared.
The trees were all labeled with marble slabs giving the height and diameter. There are many that are over 300 feet tall and some that measure over 100 feet around the body by the roots. One tree that was lying down measures 450 feet in length and 108 feet around the trunk. The shell is sound but the remainder is all decayed away. My daughter and I walked through the trunk for more than one hundred feet to where a part of the shell broke off in the fall and could easily have walked as much farther but I feared some wild beast might have a home in there. They had a ladder for climbing over one tree that fell over the path about half and half,
the under brush being too thick to get around it, and it took twenty runners to reach the top of the trunk.
We have been in Los Angeles now about three weeks and I think we have seen the city in better shape
than half the people that were raised here. I think I have seen twenty thousand acres of English walnut trees, as many thousand acres of orange trees, about fifteen thousand acres of beans, and about five thousand acres of lemon trees. This is the best guess I can make. Last week my daughter and I boarded an electric car and went out close Long Beach about 50 miles from here and walked the gang planks to a boat that took eight hundred of us on the ocean to Catalina Island. I did not help to feed the geese but my dad did. We took a boat with a magnifying glass bottom through which we could see many wonderful things and saw many water snakes. I think the water was 50 feet deep. We picked up sea shells and bought back on the boat.

On a drive a few days later our first stop was a place 62 miles south where the first church in California was built. It was almost destroyed by an earthquake in 1812.
The walls are still standing and it looks as though at one time it was a wonderful building. Our next stop was at San Diego, a city of about 2100 inhabitants. One morning we started out rode across a lake about one mile wide staying in our car, as the boat carried 21 automobiles over it one hour, stoned Coronas and then kept on down the ocean 20 miles until we crossed the line into Old Mexico. The authorities searched our belongings and turned us loose. We had cotton dresses the day before. We stayed the night there, being while we stayed the most delicious food ever served. I love it. A friend of ours is staying in a house as big as a hotel.
They have a lot of horses and a fine lot of chickens.

BLOOD IS FUEL TO
THE BODY

Pumped Through the System by

PEPTO-MANGAN HELPS BLOOD

Keep the Quality of your Blood at its Best—it Means Vigorous Health and Ability to Accomplish

Blood acts like a fuel. Pumped through the body by the heart, it sustains the muscles and tissues. It renews them, it feeds the brain—the tissues of the eye and face. That is why people look so pale and lifeless when blood is impoverished. The body tissues are being supplied with weak fuel. The blood has not enough red corpuscles. You would not eat poor food with no nourishment in it;
no more should you let the fuel that supplies sustenance to your entire body be inferior. Have good blood.
Improve the quality and keep it at its best.

If you look pale and feel weak, if you have lost your enthusiasm and energy, if your blood is clogged with poisons, your system is being fed with a poor grade of blood. That is no way to go around. If you are not at your best, get at the source of the trouble right away. Put an end to half-living.

Take that ideal tonic, Pepto-Mangan, to tone up your blood and purify it. Get the full enjoyment out of living. Breathe fresh air, take exercise.

Be sure to ask for "Gude's Pepto-Mangan." It comes in convenient tablet form and in liquid. One has the same medicinal value as the other. There is only one genuine Pepto-Mangan, and the name
"Gude's" is on the package.

The Ladies Aid and Knights of Malta gathered at the home of Mrs.
John Smith of Coledale on September 26, it being her 60th birthday.
The table was spread with all kinds of good things to eat and drink.
Cake, ice cream and fruits of all description were served. Rev. William Space was the champion cream eater. Quite a large crowd gathered.
The evening was spent in jovial chats. All parted at a late hour wishing Mrs. Smith many more happy birthdays.

thirty-third street went to bed about three weeks ago one night and after getting into bed for a good sleep felt something in her bed and thinking it was a rat pushed it away and said: "Now then behave yourself!"
and sometimes when she felt something about her head she would say: "Now then behave yourself!"
and she would then go to sleep and when she woke up she found a large black rat in her bed. She was very frightened and called the snake.

WOMEN MAY VOTE TO SUIT SELVES

SOME POLITICIANS SEE SIGNS THAT THEY WILL NOT FOLLOW
LEAD OF MEN FOLK.

REGISTER AS INDEPENDENTS

Headquarters of the Old Parties Learn
the People Are Rather Apathetic—Campaign Hasn't Developed Any Overshadowing Issue.

By JAMES P. HORNADAY.
Washington.—With the presidential election drawing near, politicians would be happier if they knew how the women will vote. The recent promulgation of the amendment to the federal constitution conferring the right to vote on all women has introduced a factor in the campaign with which the politicians have not had to reckon to any great extent in the past.
Wherever registration of voters has taken place since the amendment was promulgated, the women have shown an eagerness to register which indicates that the new vote will be a heavy
one. It is regarded as significant that in a good many states the women are registering as independents, rather than as Democrats, Republicans, Prohibitionists, Socialists or whatnot. Politicians generally agree that this probably means that the women have not made up their minds what they intend to do on election day.

Some persons whose business it is to keep track of things politically have a theory that the women as a rule will not vote as their men folk vote. In this connection it is pointed out that in the home circle it has been the habit for a long time to chide the prospective women voters about voting as their husbands or brothers or sweethearts voted. It is asserted that this chiding has got on the nerves of a great many women who feel that it is incumbent on them to display some independence when they go to the polls,
and the prediction is made that in every state there will be many thousands of women who will make it a point not to vote the way the men folk in the family voted. All this speculation interests the politicians and where it is taken seriously makes the problem before them more difficult of solution.

People Rather Apathetic.
The reports to the headquarters of the old political parties as a rule indicate that the people are not as yet showing any keen interest in the election. The two leading candidates for president have received cordial receptions wherever they have traveled, but the common run of spellbinders sent out by the speaking bureaus of the committee have, it is asserted, not faced unusual crowds. The people are not disposed to be demonstrative at all. Some of the politicians argue that the voters have made up their minds, while others set forth the view that the people who are to do the voting
are yet to be convinced.

With the period of time for presenting arguments to the people becoming brief it is generally agreed that the campaign has not developed any overshadowing issue. The League of Nations has been talked about more than any other one thing and in some localities has apparently become a real issue, but for the country as a whole it has not stirred things as some of the politicians thought it would. Attempts have been made to introduce the "wet and dry" issue into the national campaign, but thus far they have not succeeded to any great extent. It is a real issue, however, in a good many congressional districts. The supporters of the prohibition amendment
are seeking to bring about the election of members of congress who will not vote to weaken the law under which prohibition is enforced. It is generally agreed that the amendment itself is in the constitution to stay, and that the only question is whether congress will ever see fit to weaken the enforcing legislation.

Warm Contest for Senate Control.
Both the old political parties are making a drive for congress. The contest for control of the United States senate is attracting almost as much attention as the contest for the presidency. The Republicans now have control of the senate by two majority only, and this narrow margin naturally encourages each of the parties to believe that it has a chance to win the senate. The fact, too, that the senate will have such an important part to play in the foreign policy of the government under the new administration, whether that administration shall be Republican or Democratic, lends zest to the contest for control on that body.

During the last month of the campaign each of the old parties will resort to all the known tactics to create interest in the contest. Experience has shown the politicians that success depends to a large extent on the ability of a party to get out its vote. So much of the campaign work that is now under way has to do with preparations for getting the ballots into the box on election day.

With the women voting throughout the land, the job of counting the votes this year will be enormous. In some of the states the election machinery will have to be made over quickly so as to enable the women to vote.

BUICK PRICE PROTECTION

Announced by
BEDFORD GARAGE,
Bedford, Pa.

BUICK—A great many people appreciate the values offered by the Buick Motor Co., and many appreciated that we have not during the last three years priced our cars at anything like the figures they could have been sold for, consequently these people are buying Buick Cars today regardless of the reductions made by some companies.

We have no intention whatever of reducing our established list prices for the 1921 season, because we know that our product is priced right. Our prices are based on costs, costs have not been reduced in the least, and our car is excellent value for the money.

To protect our customers, should any unexpected reduction in material and labor effect our costs so as to justify lower prices, we will refund to every purchaser of a New Buick car the amount of any reduction from our established prices.

Our prices are based on the same fair margin of profit as they were during the war. We did not raise prices then and because our prices are based on costs and not on what we could sell the cars for, we are not in a position to reduce them now."

Yours very truly,

BUICK MOTOR CO.

THE UNIVERSAL CAR

The Ford One Ton Truck is serving business as faithfully and economically as does the Ford Touring Car serve all the people faithfully and economically. The Ford Truck is a necessity to the grocer both in delivering goods and in bringing goods from the station, docks and from the country. It is an Real motor car because there isn't a want of the farmer or business man that it doesn't supply in the way of quick transportation at a minimum expense. Come in, examine the Truck, and let us talk over the subject.

Use genuine Ford Parts

King Motor Co. Bedford, Pa

D. A. Claar Queen, Penna.

INSIST ON GENUINE FORD PARTS

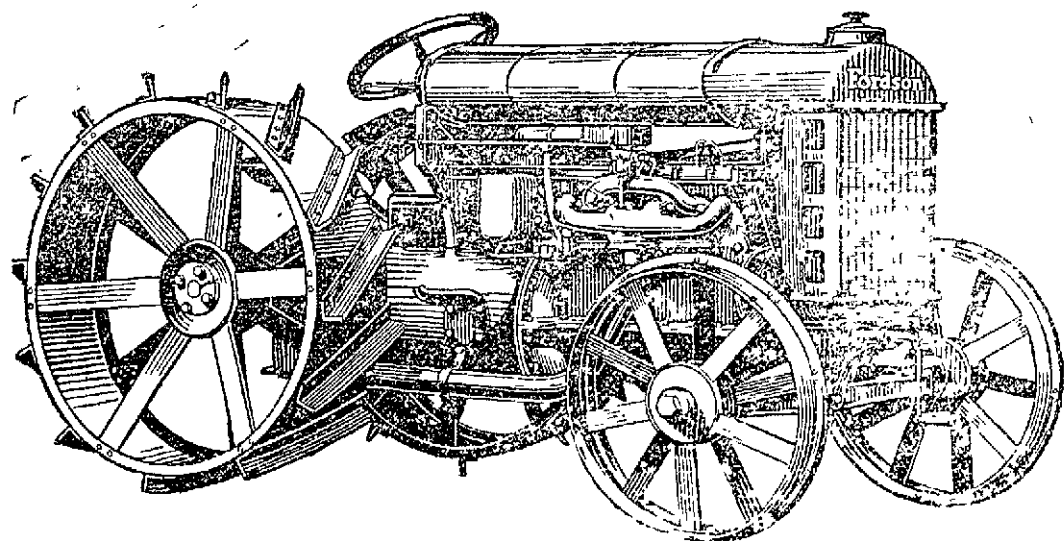

Fordson

A Fordson Tractor on the farm means more prosperity for the farmer. It doesn't make any difference how you spell that prosperity—whether it is in increased production; whether it is in the saving time that comes from a machine over a horse or mule, whether it comes in a release from the drudgery and all-day and all-night labor on the farm for both man and wife—because the Fordson answers all these problems to the satisfaction of the farmer.

It can't be otherwise. These are the days of progress, and power on the farm is the necessity. It is only a question of what kind of power the farmer is going to have, but no farmer with the facts now before him can question the monetary advantage of machine power over horse and mule power. The Tractor is the farmer's necessity just as much as the sun is the necessity for growing crops.

All that is necessary for a farmer to know his Fordson Tractor as familiarly as he understands handling a team of horses. He wants to use the same amount of reason and common sense. In the Fordson Tractor is the concentrated power of eighteen horses, and as flexible as the movement of your arm—much more flexible than horse control—and beyond all comparison much more economical both in service and in keep. Then it will do so many things that horses and mules cannot do, and it doesn't eat when idle.

We don't believe there is any question in the mind of any farmer as to the necessity for a Tractor, but he may have some doubts as to what kind of Tractor, so that is the reason we are putting this advertisement in this paper to draw his attention to the Fordson Tractor. This is why we put the above arguments before him, and why we now invite him to come in to our place of business and view the Fordson Tractor. Let us show him what it has done. Let us prove to him its superiority over any other Tractor. It means more to him than it does to us. When we sell a Tractor, we make a small profit, but when he buys a Tractor he buys a power that is working for him every day in the year; that is, if he buys a Fordson—we can't speak for the other kind. Come in!

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Teacher of English Bible in the Moody

(© 1920, Western Newspaper Union.)

LESSON FOR OCTOBER 10

BAPTISM AND TEMPTATION OF JESUS.

LESSON TEXT—Matthew 3:1; 4:1.
GOLDEN TEXT—This is my beloved
Son, in whom I am well pleased.—Matt.
3:17.

ADDITIONAL MATERIAL—Luke 3:1; 4:1; Heb. 2:18; 4:15.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Jesus Pleasing the Heavenly Father.

JUNIOR TOPIC—Baptism and Temptation of Jesus.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—
Jesus Overcoming Temptation.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—
Victory Over Appetite, Pride and Ambition.

I. The Baptism of Jesus (3:13-17).

While the forerunner was discharging his office, the King emerged from his seclusion at Nazareth and demanded baptism at John's hands. The incongruity of this with the purpose of baptism brought from John a protest, but Jesus' explanation was satisfactory, so John baptized him. Touching Christ's baptism, note:

1. Its significance. (1) Negatively. (a) It did not mean his own obedience to the commandment of God, because his entire life had been lived entirely within the will of God. Not a moment in his entire life but what was lived entirely in accordance with the Father's will. (b) Not because he had sin, for he was absolutely sinless, harmless, undefiled, separate from sinners. This separation was so complete that even the devil could find no occasion against him (John 14:30). (2) Positively. Its significance is found in harmony with the central purpose of his coming into the world, which was to secure for his people salvation through death, burial and resurrection.

2. Approval from the opened heavens (vv. 16, 17). Immediately following his consecration to his work, the heavens were opened and the Spirit came and abode upon him, followed by words of approval from the Father. These all were essential for the work upon which Christ now entered—revelation (heavens opened), inspiration (dove abode upon him), and approval (words from the Father).

II. The Temptation of Jesus (4:1-11).

This temptation was the opening battle of the dreadful conflict between Christ and Satan. In this struggle, note:

1. The combatants. (1) Jesus Christ, the Divine Man, now entering upon his mediatorial work. He went immediately from the place of anointing and heavenly recognition as the Son of God to meet the arch-enemy of the race. (2) The devil. He was a real person filled with cunning and malice.

2. The battle ground—the Wilderness of Judea. The first man was tempted in a garden with the most pleasant surroundings and failed; the second man was tempted in a bare wilderness and gloriously triumphed.

3. The method of attack. Since as our Redeemer Christ sustains a three-fold relationship, Son of Man, Son of God and as Messiah, each one was made a ground of attack. (1) As Son of Man. This was a test of the reality of his humanity to demonstrate as to whether the humanity which he obtained through the Virgin birth was real. The appeal was made to the instinct of hunger. Hunger is natural and sinless. Having been forty days and nights without food, as a normal man, Christ had a craving appetite. While the appetite was not sinful, to have satisfied it in a wrong way would have been sin. (2) Son of God. It was to test as to whether this personality which had taken upon itself humanity, was divine. The devil quoted from a Messianic Psalm to get him to presume upon God's care. God does care for his own, but to neglect common precaution—to do the uncalculated thing just to put God's promise to a test is to sin and fall. (3) As Messiah. Christ's mission as Messiah was to recover this world from the devil. Now the devil offers to surrender to him on the simple condition that he adopt his method, thus obviating the necessity of the cross. The kingdoms were really Christ's, and he knew that they would ultimately become his. The inducement was to get immediate possession without the sufferings of the cross.

4. The defense—the Word of God. Christ met the enemy each time and repulsed him with "It is written." Each time he quoted from Deuteronomy, the book which the higher critics would discredit as reliable.

5. The issue—the enemy is completely routed.

Guided by Religion.
A nation that is guided by its religion, that is firm in its ancient faith, that looks beyond material exactitudes, may well hope to survive. Mockery of religion, skepticism of faith and scorn of beliefs in what could not be proved have brought more than one nation to destruction. —Newark Evening News.

POULTRY CACKLES

VALUE OF FEATHERED STOCK

More Poultry Kept on Farms in United States Than All Other Livestock Combined.

Unusual interest in systematic poultry improvement throughout the country is apparent from reports received by the United States department of agriculture in connection with the "Better Sires—Better Stock" campaign. Figures collected thus far indicate that more poultry is kept on farms in the United States than all other livestock combined, and that a greater proportion of the poultry is of pure blood than any other kind of livestock.

Of the Meat Furnished by the Farm to the Farmer and His Family Poultry Constitutes About 10 Per Cent.

The records also refute the frequent assertion that most livestock raisers take little interest in feathered stock, leaving it largely to the women.

A Connecticut farmer who recently enrolled in the "better sires" movement is an example of the interest of men in improved poultry. He listed 30 cattle and 1,339 poultry—all of pure breeding. No other breeding stock was kept on the farm.

SWIMMING HOLE FOR DUCKS

While Not Considered Essential for Growing Fowls, It Is Wise to Provide This Feature.

While water to swim in is no longer regarded as essential for duck growing, the fowls enjoy this feature so much that we have always considered it wise to provide a small swimming hole for them. However, in raising young ducks for market they will fatten sooner without swimming. However, they must have all the water they want to drink and it should be deep enough for them to immerse their heads in.

GET AFTER LICE VIGOROUSLY

Peculiar Fact That Vermin Will Infest Some Fowls in Flocks While Others Go Free.

If one of a promising flock seems to make slower progress in growth, has a dull looking plumage and pale face—look for lice. It is queer how lice will infest some birds in a flock while others seem practically free from it. Unless you get after them vigorously, they will certainly stunt the bird.

POULTRY NOTES

Select vigorous birds.

Grow your own poultry feed.

Supply an abundance of fresh water.

Don't allow growing chicks to crowd.

Goslings do not need feed until they are 24 to 36 hours old.

Dispose of the male birds not later than June 1. Market a better quality of eggs.

Young turkeys do not bring out of the shell so much unused yolk as do young chickens, hence they must be fed earlier.

The heavier breeds, such as Rocks and Reds, and Orpingtons, will not take the perches as readily as Leghorns and Anconas.

In the rearing of chicks the essential thing is to keep them growing right along from the moment they are hatched to the period of maturity.

Nobody thinks anything now of going away on a trip

THE railroads were partly responsible. But it wasn't until the automobile reached its present state of development that the old barriers against travel were finally broken down.

II

More people own automobiles today than ever thought of owning a horse and buggy in the old days.

That's because the cost of motoring has been brought within reach of the average citizen's pocketbook.

We look upon it as part of our job to keep it there. If it weren't for the trade of the man with the medium priced car there wouldn't be much in this tire business for us.

III

The less a man has to spend on motoring, the more important it is that his tires should be of first quality.

Any tire is not good enough for the small car owner. He wants a tire that will give him just as much for his money in the small size as the big car man gets for his money in the large size.

IV

In thinking over what kind of tires we would represent in this community we tried to put ourselves in the place of the car owner. And we believe we hit it exactly when we selected U. S. Tires.

CORROBORATION

OF INTEREST TO BEDFORD READERS

For months Bedford citizens have seen in these columns enthusiastic praise of Doan's Kidney Pills by Bedford residents. Would these prominent people recommend a remedy that had not proved reliable? Would they confirm their statements after years had elapsed if personal experience had not shown the remedy to be worthy of endorsement? The following statement should carry conviction to the mind of every Bedford reader.

W. H. Weyant, 243 West Pitt St., says: "Doan's Kidney Pills aren't a new medicine to me. I have used them off and on for a number of years and wouldn't be without them. I have to be on my feet a great deal and do a lot of heavy lifting at times, this brings on backache and other kidney ailments. A few of Doan's Kidney Pills always drive the attacks away."

OVER SIX YEARS LATER, Mr. Wyant said: "I still have a good word for Doan's Kidney Pills. I use them occasionally when I feel in need of a kidney medicine and they soon make me well."

Price 60c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Wyant had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

The Sunken Grave

Nothing can be sadder than a grave that is no longer a mound. The inevitable has come to pass—the weight of the sodden earth has crushed in the last protection. It helps nothing to close the imagination to what happens then! Yet there is not the slightest necessity for this barbarous, unsanitary, old fashioned method of burial. The Norwalk Vault—at little cost—will protect absolutely and forever. Cement and steel, waterproof and airtight, it seals in plain sight and becomes one solid piece of masonry that literally "Lasts through the Ages." The best undertakers insist on its use.

When a Woman is Nervous—Worried

Most women neglect their health, and for this they pay the penalty. Any woman will find that neglect does not pay. A little more attention to health would brighten up her life. If she asks her neighbors she finds that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription benefits a woman's whole system. It not only acts upon the troubles and weaknesses, peculiar to women, but is an all-round tonic that braces the entire body, overcoming nervousness, sleeplessness, headaches, dizziness and a run-down condition.

WILKES - BARRE, PA. — "A few years ago I went down in health; my nerves were bad and I became very weak and thin and would have severe pains in my head. I also suffered with backaches. I could not sleep at night I was so nervous, and was not able to do any work. I doctored and took medicines but could find nothing that would give me any relief until I began taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and this completely restored my health. I regained my weight and my general health was much better than it had been previously. Knowing how beneficial the 'Prescription' was in my case I feel safe in recommending it." — MRS. SUGAR PRICES DOWN TO STAY

GOVERNMENT AUTHORITIES SAY
THE DAY OF PROFITEER AND SPECULATOR IS PAST.

SHORTAGE WAS NOT GENUINE

Supply Now on Hand is Larger Than It Ever Was, and This Year's Crops Will Be Unprecedented in Size—No Bank Credits to Sugar Hoarders.

By JAMES P. HORNADAY.
Washington.—The government authorities believe that low prices for sugar are here to stay. This opinion is reached by both the department of justice and the agricultural department, after each has made its own investigation. The authorities express the view that the profiteer and the speculator have had their day, and that the law of supply and demand will get back to work. There is also general agreement that there was but little excuse for the hysteria over sugar during the last year, and there is further agreement that prices never should have gone as high as they did go. It is asserted that there has always been a sufficient supply of sugar; that the speculators, and the general belief that there was a short crop, were largely responsible for the shortage, which actually prevailed so far as the retail dealers were concerned.

The failure of the federal government to buy last year's sugar crop and the dissolution of the United States sugar equalization board resulted, it is asserted, in speculators bidding against each other for the Cuban crop. Men with a speculative turn of mind who had never given a thought to sugar, except at the table for their tea or coffee, began dabbling in the market. They sent their representatives to Cuba and purchased direct from the planters. Then they arranged with the refiners to refine the raw product, paying so much a pound for the refining, the title to the sugar always remaining with the speculators.

Situation Was Fictitious.
As a result of all this there was created a fictitious and panicky situation. The American consumer, as usual, was the sufferer. He paid the price for this sort of business.

It is insisted by the government authorities that there is only one way the price of sugar can be held up, and that is for the speculator to obtain another stranglehold. There seems to be small probability of the speculators again getting the upper hand.

The crop reporting board of the department of agriculture has just completed an investigation as to the stocks of sugar on hand in the various states. The board says that this inquiry shows "there is a larger supply of sugar on hand today than ever in the history of the country."

Reports from Cuba, Hawaii and elsewhere show that their crops, plus the home crop of beet and cane sugar, break all records. According to the crop reporting board, the present sugar supply is 15 per cent greater than ever before.

Record-breaking prices have stimulated sugar planting with the result that more acreage is devoted to the crop to be harvested this fall and winter than ever before. The department of agriculture forecasts 8,920,000 tons of beet sugar for the United States this year against 1919 production of 6,421,000 tons, an estimated increase of 2,500,000 tons in the United States alone.

Cane sugar producers also have increased this acreage from 451,000 last year to 553,500 this year.

Louisiana's Huge Crop.

The Louisiana crop is now estimated at 356,000,000 pounds of sugar for 1920 against 242,000,000 pounds for 1919. Cuban planters have doubled their acreage since the war, the department of agriculture is informed. European production is also being increased, especially in Belgium and in Austria.

So it appears that housewives' troubles over sugar are about to come to an end.

After the department of justice had failed to bring down the price of sugar and had also failed to punish any of the profiteers in sugar, the Federal reserve board took a hand and actually accomplished something. What it did was to serve notice on banks that are members of the Federal reserve system that they should no longer extend credit to persons who had bought up large quantities of sugar and had placed it in storage. The effect of denying credit to the speculators was to release immense quantities of sugar. The price immediately began to go down, and for more than a month has continued to drop.

Some of the men who had immense quantities of sugar in storage when the price began to go down as the result of government interference have suggested that the federal government should reimburse them for their losses. The general run of comment here at the capital is that speculators should feel that they are fortunate in escaping punishment.

Thousands of Elk.
There are about 25,000 elk in Yellowstone park and the Teton game preserve, immediately south of the park.

There are 20,000,000 homes in the United States.

DEPARTMENT OF FORESTRY

Harrisburg, Pa., Oct. 3---A State-wide campaign has been launched to focus public attention on the forest situation in Pennsylvania. Governor Sprout has endorsed the project and has adopted a policy of forest fire prevention and extension of State Forests for his legislative program.

The campaign is in the hands of a committee on the Restoration of Pennsylvania's Timber. Production of the State. The Committee plans to carry all the people of the State the facts as to the forest and lumber situations.

In a statement issued here today, the committee stated the objects and purposes of the campaign as follows: "The committee is drawing its permanent membership from organizations of civic, industrial and religious character in the Commonwealth, and the committee hopes to make the fulfillment of the Governor's hopes a reality. What is needed is money. This can only come from the Legislature. The Legislature will not---and should not---appropriate people's money for purposes in which the people are not interested.

"We hope to arouse such interest in the forests and lumber situation as to give the Legislature the authority it needs and seeks to make appropriations of size commensurate with the demands of the case.

"The first big job the State has to do is to end forest fires. On the present appropriation less than half a cent per acre is available for this work. It is absolutely insufficient; ridiculously so.

"The department of Forestry should have at least $1,000,000 for the two year appropriation for fire fighting alone. The Governor has said the Department should have for fire protection more money than it now has for all purposes. For the administration of the Department and the purchase of additional forest lands by the State the Legislature should appropriate every cent possible, considering the revenues of the State and the just demands of the other branches of the State government.

$125,000,000 PROFIT TO U. S. FROM $500,000 INVESTMENT

Durum Wheat, Rice and Egyptian Cotton Work by Meredith Brings Huge Results.

Profits of more than $125,000,000 on investments of half a million dollars have been made by Uncle Sam through the Agricultural Department according to Secretary E. T. Meredith. A total of $250,000 was spent in establishing durum wheat in the United States. Now $50,000,000 worth of durum wheat is produced every year. Less than $200,000 was spent establishing a rice industry in California that has now an annual crop worth $21,000,000. In introducing Egyptian cotton $10,000 was spent and the crop now is worth $20,000,000 a year.

At comparatively small expense a serum was developed with which to combat hog cholera. The losses from this disease have been reduced $40,000,000 a year. It is estimated that cholera is still costing the country $60,000,000 a year.

It is estimated that cholera is still costing the country $60,000,000 a year. A few thousand dollars was spent introducing grain and forage sorghums, and it is estimated that 125,000 bushels of grain sorghums were produced last year.
